1. The firm of Lorenzo Sartorio, 4 Via Lima, Rome, has allegedly offered Josef Attas of the Attas and Milone firm, 1 Via Toscana, Rome, 20,000 aluminum parachute clasps of British or American make, marked "Tillbury".
2. These clasps appear to be war surplus material. They were acquired as scrap aluminum by a firm which is associated with the Sartorio firm, and it is under this guise that Sartorio is seeking to obtain an export license for one of the countries of the Middle East, Syria, Palestine, or Lebanon.
3. This is the first instance that the Sartorio firm has been in touch with Attas. It is not registered at the Rome Chamber of Commerce.
